Triad Celebrates 40-Year Milestone

Woodinville, WA, April 1, 2015 – President Jeff Cox marked the occasion of Triad’s 40th Anniversary by hosting an open house at the company’s new Woodinville headquarters. In attendance were over 100 long-time clients, sub-consultants, vendors and employees.

“What an honor it is to be President at this significant time for our company,” commented Cox. “We’ve contributed to incredible regional growth and weathered economic ups and downs. Today, we’re adding employees and continue to serve the greater-Seattle area with outstanding consulting services.”

Cox added, “This area was a lot different in 1975. The tallest building in Bellevue was only eight stories; Redmond had one stop light. When you see where these two representative cities are today, that’s nearly impossible to believe.”

Triad has completed over 11,000 projects including Seattle-area landmarks – Pike Place Market, University of Washington, Seattle University, Columbia Tower and SeaTac Airport; well over a thousand single- and multi-family communities – Seneca Towers, Talus, Issaquah Highlands, The Villages, Hidden Cove, Harbor Hill and Port Gamble; a variety of mixed-use, office and commercial properties – Bellevue Square, Kent Station, The Landing, Juanita Village, Lincoln Tower, Centerpoint, and Snoqualmie Casino; and numerous medical facilities – Overlake Hospital, Northwest Hospital and Medical Center, Providence Regional Medical Center Everett, Good Samaritan Hospital Puyallup, and Group Health Bellevue.

In addition to celebrating 40 years in business, Triad recently rebranded the company, moved its headquarters and launched a new website.
